The house stretches over three storeys. The lower level contains an office, a guest bedroom, a guest bathroom, a garage and various utility rooms. It is positioned at street level and serves as a climatic buffer zone. A light shaft was dug into the slope to the right of the house, enabling many of the rooms on the lower level to be lit by daylight.

A kitchen, living and dining area as well as a library are organized as an open unit around a central stairwell. The completely white kitchen is divided from the dining area by means of a free-standing kitchen counter. This area forms the communicative and social core of the apartment.

The stairs form the core of the main living area, connecting the three floors and the various living areas. The stair is covered in anthracite, mineral coating in which the production traces are deliberately conserved. The terrace design uses a similar-looking cement surface, transforming living space and exterior into a unified whole. A programmable, LED lighting strip running along the ceiling completely transforms it at night, providing colored light to reflect your mood.

The projecting glass structure provides the living room with the necessary generous space, without increasing the total area of the house and therefore the building costs.

此楼房共三层楼。低层包括一间办公室，一间宾客卧室，一间宾客浴室，一个车库和各式各样的杂物间。楼房坐落在街道上，并作为一个气候缓冲区。一个轻的外露烟囱插入屋顶右边的斜坡，使低层的许多房间可照进更多自然光。厨房、客厅、餐厅和图书室作为开放单位围绕在中心的楼梯井处。一个独立的厨房柜台将全白的厨房与餐厅分隔开。这个区域成为此公寓的核心社交空间。楼梯连接三层楼和不同生活区域，成为主要生活空间的核心。楼梯是由无烟煤、矿物涂层覆盖的。建造信息被有意保存。这个平台的设计使用了一个类似的水泥表面，使生活空间与户外连成一个统一的整体。一个可编程的LED灯带沿着天花板，在夜晚完全是另一种景象，它可照射出多彩的灯光来反映你的心情。创造性的玻璃结构不但没有增加总面积和建筑成本，还给起居室提供了必要的宽敞空间。
